

Mogammad Redah Gamieldien

OBJECTIVE

I am a passionate Application Development student working toward a Diploma in ICT at Cape Peninsula University of Technology, and I am eager to secure a Work Integrated Learning (WIL) internship. This opportunity would allow me to translate my academic knowledge into real-world experience while contributing meaningfully within a professional development setting.

PROJECT

Student Management System: Java Swing Application

- I worked as part of a team to build a desktop application using java swing.
- Applied object-oriented programming principles and modular development practices.
- Integrated an SQL database to enable efficient data storage and retrieval.
- Implemented search functionality to allow faster access to stored information.
- Designed user interface components and incorporated input validation and error handling to enhance usability and system reliability.
